POWERS SPLIT ON A RUSSIAN POLICY

British Attempt to Close Breach
With France Over Question of
Combatting Bolshevism

ASK CONTINUED COOPERATION

United States Will Refrain From
"Taking Sides"—Causes For
The Break Explained

(By United Press.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—The United States will refrain from the present from "taking sides" in the differences between Great Britain and France over the Russians, it was learned at the state department today.

Britain and France have split on the question of how to combat Russian Bolshevism.

The British today attempted to close the breach. A note was received at the French foreign office in which the British declared the two governments should continue to co-operate closely while the present differences are adjusted.

The schism in the allied unity was caused by France extending recognition to General Wrangel, anti-bolshevik leader in the Crimea, and by Britain advising Poland to accept the Bolshevik peace terms, according to the dispatch.

Premier Lloyd George at first refused to credit the report that the French had recognized Wrangel without the British consent.

When Premier Millerand heard that Lloyd George had advised the Poles to accept the Bolshevik terms, he told the cabinet it was a violation of the Hythe agreement under which France and Britain were to act in concert on the Russian crisis.

The sudden development of the French-British liaison came as a surprise to many diplomats.

Washington officials expressed fear that France and Britain would go it alone hereafter which would weaken the western barrier against the spread of bolshevism.

The official Washington attitude evidently was "hands off" for the present until it was seen whether the differences could be patched up.

Crop of 22 Acres Averages
35½ Bushels of Wheat to Acre
Samuel Tonyes, who lives in southern Rush county, near the Rush-Decatur line, reported yesterday that he believes he is the holder of the best yield this season, having raised 786 bushels of wheat on 22 acres, or an average of 35½ bushels. Mr. Tonyes stated that the wheat graded number 1, which means that it tested above 60 pounds. The farm is located a short distance north-west of Williamstown and lies wholly in Rush county.

Gillilan Got First Experience At Lecturing in Rush County

Famous Poet and Humorist, Here to Address Chautauqua, Recalls
"Tour" of County With Link Gary
School Superintendent.

URNS OUT POEMS TO ORDER

Strickland Gillilan, who prides himself on the fact that he can turn out verse made to order, reached Rushville shortly before noon to address the chautauqua this afternoon. Gillilan is no stranger in Rushville because this is where he "got his feet" wet entertaining people without writing his thoughts on paper.

He "toured" the county with Link Gary, he recalled, when Link was county superintendent of schools, speaking at eighth year commencement.

"By the way," Gillilan said, "I understand that Link Gary is not in town. Am I right?"

When informed that he was Gillilan said he thought that rather

NO TRACE FOUND OF STOLEN FORD MACHINE

William Moore of New Salem Offers
$50 Reward for Recovery of His
Touring Car

CITIES NEARBY NOTIFIED.

No trace has been found of a new Ford touring car which was stolen from the streets in this city Saturday night, the car belonging to William Moore of New Salem. It had been driven only two months. Mr. Moore after notifying the surrounding towns, offered a reward of $50 for the apprehension of the machine.

The car was left in Third street, near the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ornes, and it is believed that it was taken about nine o'clock, as the family had not been away from the machine only a short time, when they returned, to find it was gone. Patrolman Pea made a search over Rushville and was unable to find it, the officer thinking that the machine had probably been taken for "joy-riding" purposes.

The engine number on the machine was 4085218 and the Indiana license number was 274386. The left front door was torn and there was a noticeable dent in the rear end, which would make the machine easy to discover, besides being a new machine. Mr. Moore stated that there was also an army blanket in the rear seat. A quiet search has been conducted in this vicinity for the machine, and cards announcing the reward has been sent to the surrounding cities.

SHELBY COUNTY BOARD TO RESCIND ITS ORDER

Reviewers Will Approve Horizontal
Increase Following Meeting
With State Tax Board

INJURIOUS EFFECTS ARE SEEN

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 12.—That the Shelby county board of review will rescind action in opposing horizontal increases in property valuations as ordered by the state tax board, was indicated today at a meeting of a Shelby county delegation with the state board.

Two representatives of the county farmers' federation accompanied by the auditor and treasurer and all but two members of the board of review, came to this city to thresh out the question before the tax board.

The farmers' representatives requested that the county board rescind its action on the ground that the tax board's subsequent order making a county wide horizontal increase, would place a burden on their constituents.

DEDICATION TO BE HELD AUGUST 22

Formal Ceremony is Arranged by
The Little Flatrock Christian Congregation

NEW CHURCH IS COMPLETED.

House of Worship, Including Furnishings, Cost $35,000—Established in 1830

The new church which has been erected during the past year by the Little Flatrock Christian congregation, will be dedicated with formal ceremony one week from next Sunday, August 22. Three services will be held during the day, at 10:30 a. m. and 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. The dedicatory sermon will be preached in the evening by George L. Snively and the keys to the new house of worship will be formally turned over to the chairman of the board of trustees, W. E. Logan, by Charles B. Kenner, chairman of the building committee. Dinner will be served in the basement of the new church at noon.

The Little Flatrock church's history extends back almost a century and instead of declining, as has been the history of rural churches, it has enjoyed a steady and substantial growth until today it is one of the most influential churches of the denomination to be found any place.

The way the congregation has kept astride with the progress of the country is demonstrated by the beautiful church which has just been completed, furnishings included, at a cost of $35,000.

The church was organized in the spring of 1830 and was in reality an offspring of the Baptist church. John P. Thompson, an elder of the church in the Little Flatrock community, on a visit to Kentucky, heard the exponents of the restoration movement. He returned home and related what he had heard to his co-workers in the church. The result was the formation of the new congregation.

The body of Mr. Thompson lies buried in the graveyard adjoining the church. Benjamin Reeve, another to whom the church is indebted for his services in the early days when the congregation was in its infancy, is also buried in the church cemetery. Many ministers of great ability, which has been demonstrated by their call to larger fields, have served the church during its ninety years of constant development. The Rev. Talmage Defrees is the present minister and is in the second year of his pastorate.

The congregation has never allowed its efforts and work to be confined to the small community which it serves, but has had a vision of world service and has contributed liberally to missionary offerings. It also supports a prosperous auxiliary of the Christian Women's Board of Missions which now boasts of a membership of nearly one hundred.

PONZI IS ARRESTED TODAY

Boston "Millionaire" Accused of
Using Mails to Defraud

(By United Press.)

Boston, Mass., Aug. 12.—Charles Ponzi the "bushel basket millionaire," who is declared to have made his millions in operations on postal reply coupons, formally surrendered himself to the federal authorities here today, charged with using the mails to defraud. He provided bond for $25,000 and was released until August 19.

Shortly after 1:30 o'clock, Bank Commissioner Allen declared that the capital of the Hanover Trust Company which he seized yesterday was not simply impaired but probably wiped out.

The capitalization was $400,000. Ponzi conducted practically all of his mysterious financial operations through the Hanover Trust Company and had a large share of stock in the institution.

MAY HAVE BEARING ON DEMAREE CASES

Anna Alyea, Said to be Wife of
Gregg Alyea, One of Defendants,
Arrested for Shoplifting

IS REMEMBERED HERE WELL.

Alyea's Trial on Conspiracy Charge
is Scheduled for The September
Term of Court

Today comes forth with another chapter in the Demaree case, which might lead up to future arrests, when Anna Alyea, of Greensburg was arrested in Indianapolis, charged with shoplifting. The Greensburg woman is said to be the wife of Gregg Alyea, who is awaiting trial in the Rush circuit court on a conspiracy charge, in connection with the Demaree gang.

Mrs. Alyea gave her age as 29, and will be recalled here by many as being seen in the court room, as a beautiful young woman, her husband being about twice as old as she.

Detectives Manning and Reynolds of the Indianapolis police force made the arrests and at the same time arrested May LaForge, age 28 years, who gave her address as 1713 Prospect street, Indianapolis. The detectives allege that they observed the women taking merchandise from counters in a store, and that the goods taken amounted to $14.

Word from Greensburg today stated that the Alyea woman was said to be the wife of Gregg Alyea, who left that city about two weeks ago for a visit in Indianapolis. She is also a daughter of "Deacon" Abe Smith of Indianapolis.

Whether this case will have any bearing on the Demaree case here is unknown, as little suspicion was ever paid to her when she was in the court room with her husband. In fact she was pitied by most of the people, because of the look of innocence that she had.

Just this week Carey Wayner, who was associated with the Demaree gang, was arrested in Michigan and brought to this city on a charge of house breaking, and is still in jail, not having requested a bond.

The trial of Gregg Alyea, husband of the woman held in the Indianapolis jail, is scheduled for sometime during the September term of court, he being out now on $5,000 bond on the conspiracy charge. The conspiracy charge which included seven people, has so far resulted in three sentences.

DEATH MESSAGE IS NOT RECEIVED HERE

Elwood Ferguson Learns From Letter Telegram Was Sent Aug.
4 Notifying Him of Death

OLIVER YOUSE BORN HERE

Failure to receive a telegram which was filed at Cleveland, Ohio, August 4 resulted in Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Ferguson, 210 North Julian street, not learning of the death of their nephew, Oliver Youse, for seven days after it occurred.

They received a letter Wednesday from Mrs. Kate Youse, mother of the deceased and sister of Mr. Ferguson, announcing the death of Mr. Youse and stating that a telegram had been sent from Cleveland on the day he expired, Wednesday, Aug. 4. The body was not buried until Saturday, August 7. Mrs. Youse expecting relatives here to attend. Inquiry at the Western Union office here revealed that no such a telegram had ever been received in Rushville.

Mr. Youse was born and reared in Rushville and will be remembered by many people here. He suffered a stroke of paralysis and pneumonia developed, causing his demise. Besides his mother, he is survived by the widow and one son, who is fifteen years old. Mr. Youse was chief of the Western Union office in Cleveland. Burial took place at Sandusky, Ohio, last Saturday.

DR. LOWELL M. GREEN ACQUITTED BY A JURY

Fifty Seconds Required to Decide
Physician Not Guilty of Violating Parking Ordinance

SPECIAL JUDGE PRESIDES

Dr. Lowell M. Green was acquitted yesterday afternoon in police court by a jury of six men, after being charged with failing to park his automobile within the lines marked off for that purpose. He was arrested a few days ago when it was alleged that he parked his machine wrong, in front of the Rush County National bank, leaving it there for over an hour. Gates Ketchum acted as special judge, replacing Mayor Irvin who granted the petition for a change of judge.

The defense proved to the satisfaction of the jury that his machine was parked within the lines, and testimony that was attempted to be introduced by the city that the machine was blocking the sidewalk traffic, was ruled out, because the affidavit charged only a violation of the white line ordinance. The jury consisted of Al Linville, Will Mulno, Paul Boehm, R. C. Hargrove, Guy Gordon and Fred Hammer, and it required 50 seconds to return a verdict of not guilty.

FORMER MAYOR OF RUSHVILLE EXPIRES

B. A. Black, About 60 Years of Age,
Dies This Morning When Condition Suddenly Grows Worse

WIDOW AND TWO DAUGHTERS

B. A. Black, grocer and former mayor of Rushville, expired this morning, at ten-thirty at his residence, 533 North Jackson street, after a long suffering with Bright's disease. Mr. Black was not thought to be dangerously ill until last night, when he suffered with a sinking spell, but this morning he was able to sit up and talk with his family. He suddenly grew worse, however, and death resulted.

For a number of years he conducted a grocery store in this city, and was a well known business man. He retired in 1913 as mayor of the city, after having served for four years in that capacity, heading the democratic administration.

The deceased was about 60 years of age, and is survived by a widow and two children, who are Miss Helen Black of this city and Mrs. Esther Cannon of Greencastle. The funeral arrangements were not completed today.

Strong Lock Put On The Council Chamber Door By Mayor's Order

Not Satisfied With Safe Locked,
Mayor Bars Entrance to Upstairs
of City Building—Chief of Police
and City Clerk Have a Key.

FIREMEN WERE CUSTODIANS

Not being satisfied with the public records being locked within the safe in the council chamber, and barred from public inspection, unless demanded to be seen, Mayor Irvin has had a strong Yale lock put on the outer door of the council chamber, and this morning entrance was also barred from the council room.

So far as is known, only the chief of police and city clerk have a key for the outer door. Policeman Pea, who is on duty at night, will be compelled to remain without shelter during a storm, and whenever he wants access to his private locker, must hunt up the higher official.

Today was one of the high spots of the Rush county chautauqua of 1920.

Good music sandwiched in between some wholesome wit and humor and an instructive address on how to keep well was the promise held out by the chautauqua.

The Vissochi Florentine Musicians who arrived this morning for an afternoon and evening concert, offer a combination of talented artists which has not been excelled here this year, according to all the information which can be obtained by the program committee.

Rush county chautauqua patrons did not have to be told that they should hear Strickland Gillilan, the elongated Hoosier who loves to talk to an Indiana audience better than any other in the world, and they demonstrated this fact this afternoon. Gillilan was here a few years ago and the coliseum was then literally packed to the roof. (For some people did find seats on the rafters). Clever as are his writings, especially his poems, his platform addresses have won even greater popularity.

Dr. Lena K. Sadler, who is recognized as a real authority on health subjects, lectures tonight. She is said to have a very striking personality and a wonderful delivery which makes the truths she pre-locking up the council chamber and the safe is not known, but the carpenter said that it was Mayor Irvin's orders, and of course orders must be obeyed.

Firemen have taken a great pride in keeping the council chamber in tidy order. Nothing has compelled them to do this, but they have felt that it is also a part of their headquarters and have taken unusual pride in seeing to it that the room is always clean and presentable.

The question comes up now as to the future custodianship of the chamber, for with only two keys, or possibly another carried by the mayor it means that someone else will play janitor and keep the room in tip-top shape.

One person remarked this morning that someone of these days Yale locks will be placed on the doors at the fire station and when an alarm came in, it would be necessary first to get the key from the police chief, and if time was left, put out the fire, and then lock the place up again."

TIGHTENING OF MONEY HITS AUTO INDUSTRY

Indianapolis Plants Are Laying Off Men Due to Refusal of Banks To Loan Funds

PEOPLE NOT BUYING CARS

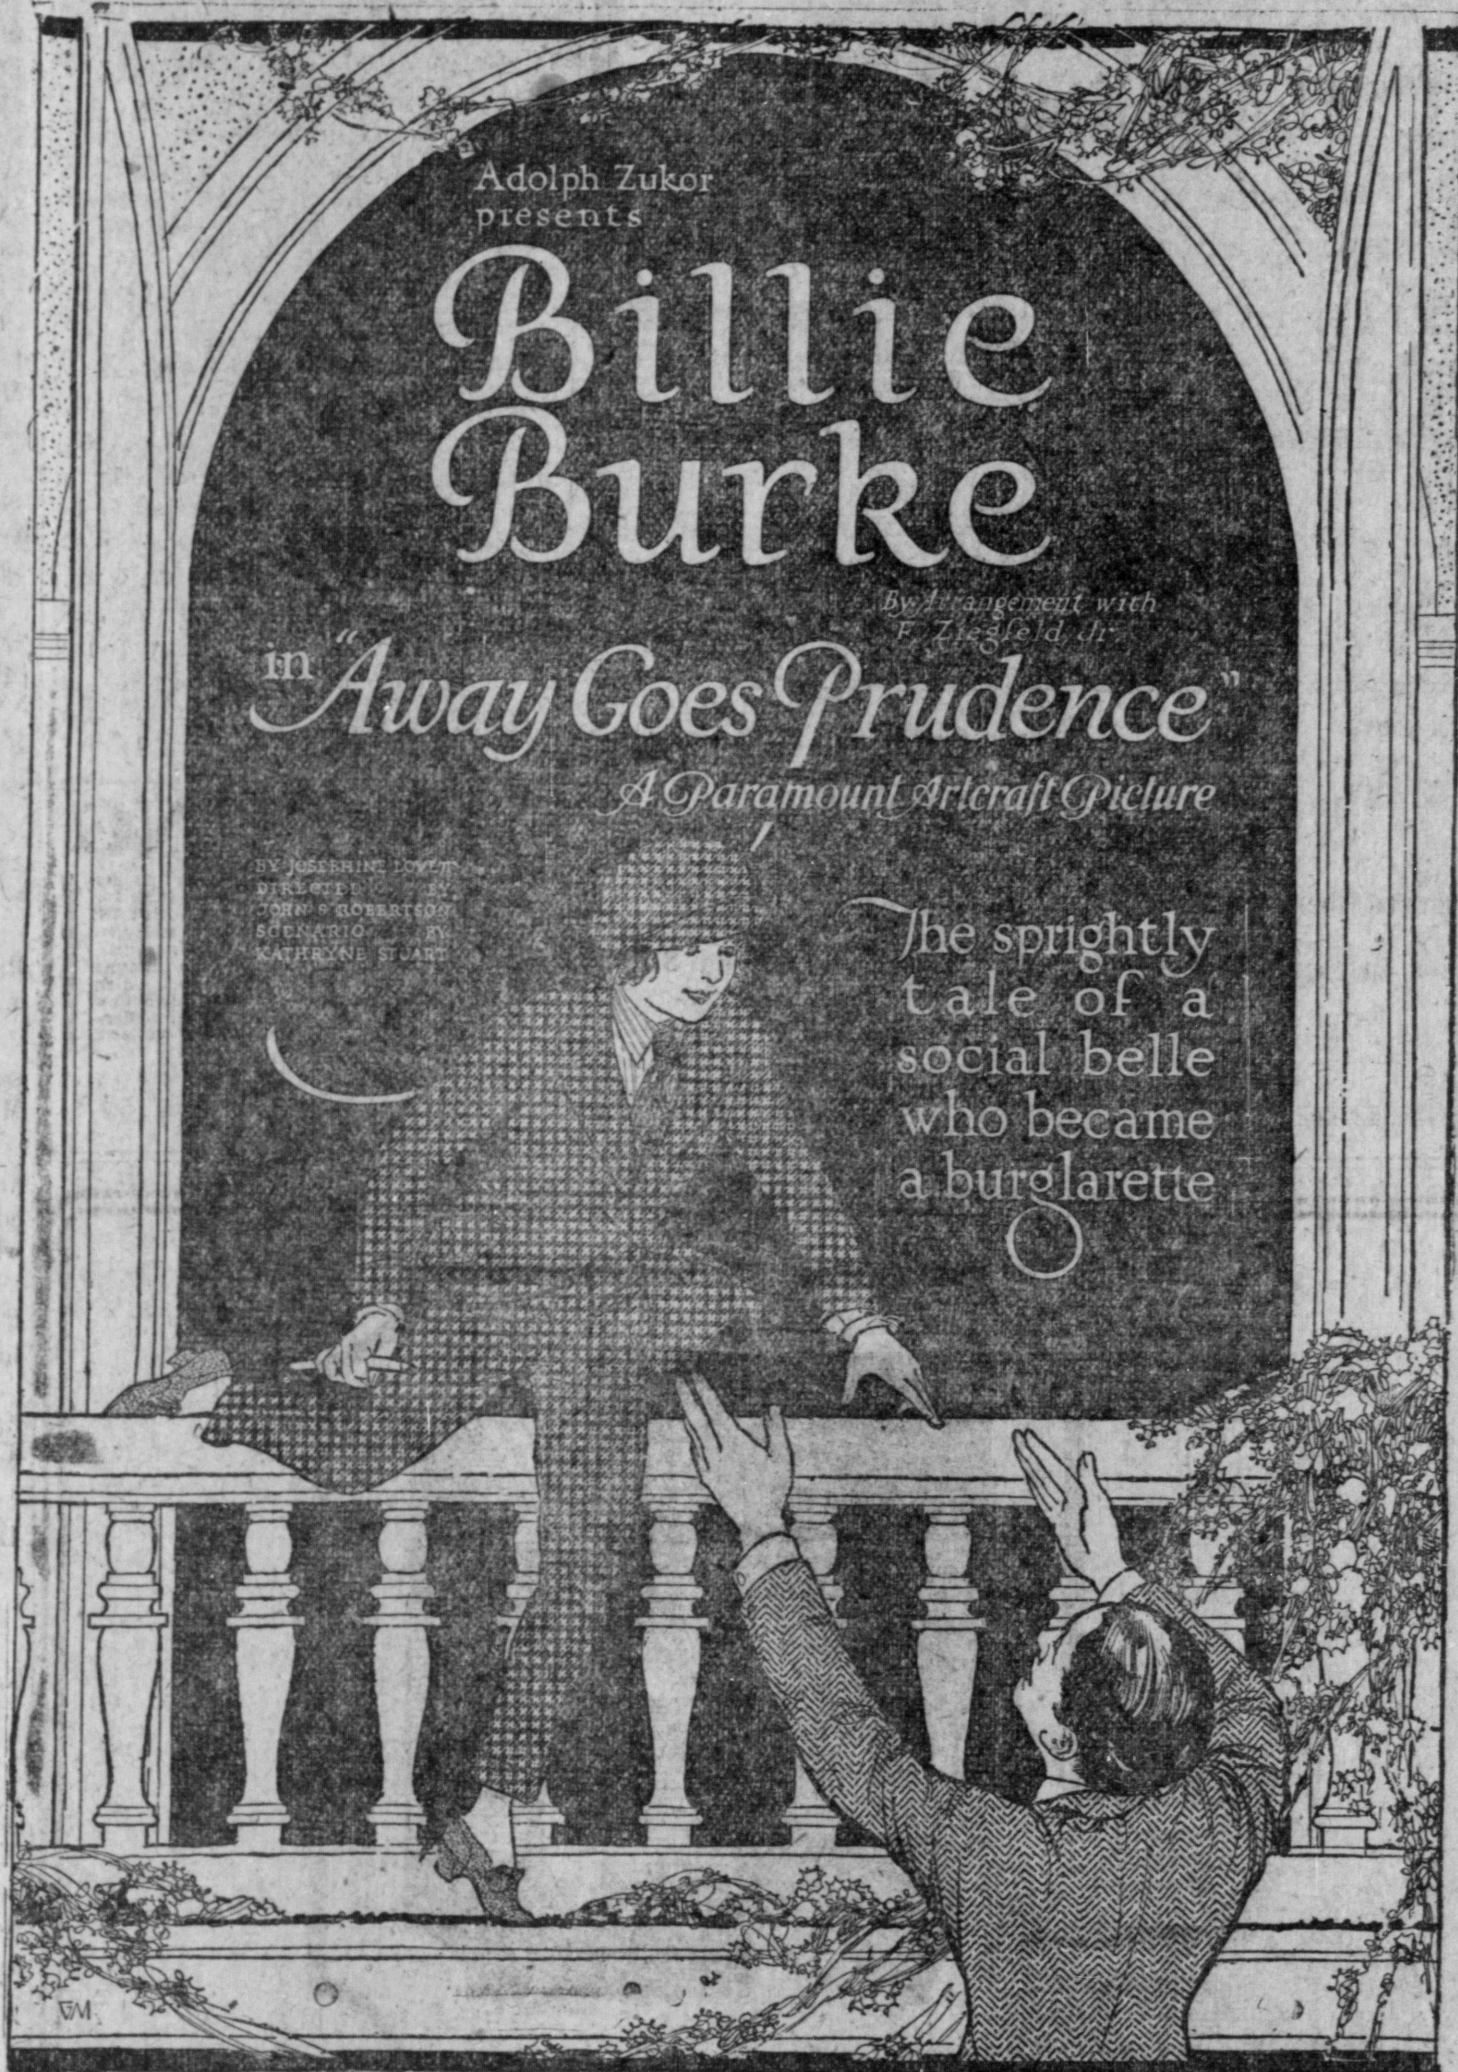

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., August 12.—Tightening of money by banks will force the suspension of the automobile industry within a short time, Indianapolis manufacturers said today. Thousands of employees of the automobile factories of the city have already been laid off and forces will be reduced still farther.

The manufacturers attributed the situation to a refusal of banks throughout the country to extend credit to dealers and to the manufacturers of automobiles. If the banks continue to refuse to grant loans or to extend those already out every automobile industry will be forced to shut down, in the opinion of H. C. Denning, superintendent of production for William H. Snell Co., manufacturing the Monroe automobiles. The Monroe manufacturers have already cut the force to one-third the normal size.

The Nordyke and Marmon Company has released 2,000 of its men, leaving a working force of 3,800, and this number is expected to be reduced gradually. The National plant has closed down with the exception of the service and shipping departments. An official of the Nordyke and Marmon company said today that "people simply are not buying cars now." He admitted also that it is growing more difficult for dealers and manufacturers to obtain loans and said this was responsible largely for the general laying off of men.

"I have in mind an instance last November when I received a proof of a full page to be run in the January Ladies Home Journal, with the information that the forms were ready to lock and they needed a poem to go with the picture. I sent it by the next mail. It was easy. The picture told the story. All I had to do was put it in words.

"My publishers offered me $250 advanced royalties for another book by November. I don't know where it is coming from, but I'll have it."

"A. B. A." Cheques are safe, because if not countersigned they are useless to anyone but the owner. They are convenient, because hotels, railroads, steamship companies and merchants everywhere accept them as readily as cash in payment of bills, and because the only identification needed is the countersignature of the owner in the presence of the person accepting the Cheques.

Poland and The League

We have it on the authority of Father John Pahlbicki, a native of Poland who is in touch with the thought in that country, that the Poles are sorely aggrieved at the failure of the league of nations to keep its pledge with member nations and protect their territorial integrity.

If the league is not going to function, then why should we have one? The Poles took the big powers of Europe at their word. They signed the league with enthusiasm because they believed it would save them from the inroads of Bolshevism on the east. But alas, they find that the league is a fraud. They learn, when put to the test, that it is either not able or is not so disposed to live up to the agreement made to all signatures in Article ten.

Proponents of the league in this country have led us to believe that we would not have to send troops to Europe to settle boundary disputes because the sole power of declaring war rests with congress. If we do not send troops, what would we do in a case such as exists now, if we were members of the league? Would we be parties to the inaction and dilatory methods which have been followed by the league, or would we have sent troops to help.

If we had been a member of the league, we could have added nothing to what the league has done with respect to the Russo-Polish war, because the league has done nothing. If the league had kept faith with Poland, it would have been compelled to send troops to Poland to help stem the tide of the Red invaders. In that event, United States would have had to contribute its share of soldiers to help decide whether the Bolsheviks were entitled to a slice of Poland.

So the question resolves itself into one of two things. The United States by entering the league must be willing to subscribe to its provisions—by force of arms if necessary, protect the territorial integrity of member nations, or do nothing as in the case of the present war, in which event there seems no occasion for a league of nations.

The complete failure of the league to act in the Russo-Polish situation is evidence enough that the league is valueless. Great Britain, Italy and France have been conferring together, but not as league members. They are meeting as independent nations, according to old methods, and are considering the question from their viewpoint.

Poland marched into the Ukraine without following the prescribed procedure of the covenant. Other members gave tacit consent. Then Russia, not a league member, attacked Poland, and again the league is ignored. The three principal powers of Europe hold a conference at Hythe, not under the auspices of the league but as individual nations.

Discussing this very question the New York Tribune comments as follows:

Article 17 of the covenant, covering war or threat of war between a league member and a non-league member, says the league council shall invite the outsider to become a member and to accept league obligations. Then the article declares: "If a state so invited shall refuse to accept the obligations of membership for the purposes of such dispute, and shall resort to war against a member of the league, the provisions of Article 16 shall be applicable as against the state taking such action."

Article 16, thus referred to, provides for instant action against an offending state. First, there is to be a boycott, and then the league council is to recommend to the several governments "what effective military naval or air force the members of the league shall severally contribute to the armed forces to be used to protect the covenants of the league."

No one seems ever to suggest action through or by the league. Germany hurries troops to the border. Rumania is reported to have dispatched an ultimatum to Russia. Hungary and Czecho-Slovakia discuss military action, and there is talk of French and British expeditions to Poland, but it seems to occur to no nation to urge that the war be made a league affair.

There is ado over what platforms and speeches mean, but the league itself is inert. In a new sense the question arises of what obligations this country would be under if it were a league member. Would it also be of those signing and then forgetting its membership while the ink is still wet? Any one wanting to know why Mr. Harding is averse to making specific pledges as to exactly what he would do next spring may well consider what is currently happening in Europe. A new situation has obviously arisen, and it is not strange that Europe listens to Elihu Root, the author of the Republican league plank, as he labors to make the covenant a workable instrument.

Before the Senate meets again the league covenant may be archaic through disuse—may have died from general atrophy without making even a squeak.

Yes, the things we want most are those that are hardest to get. When we hear people talk of the price of clothing, we immediately want a new suit. If it's the soaring of sugar they mention, we have a yearning for sweets, and if it's the high cost of living in general we get as hungry as a bear and look around to see what else we want. You, too.

A New Orleans structural iron worker took his five months old baby out on a girder on the fourteenth story of a new skyscraper and held it in his arms while a frightened preacher performed the christening ceremony. They got their names in print, and it's a wonder it wasn't in obituary form.

Don't worry over the mistakes of your neighbor. It is more sporty to let him worry over yours.

UNCLE JACK GOWDY GOT BRYAN'S 'GOAT'

Senator Watson Recalls Incident in Which Former State Chairman Worked a Smooth Plan

IN THE CAMPAIGN OF 1896

Republican Presidential Candidate Stayed at Home and Republicans Wore Badges to Hear Bryan

Senator James E. Watson recalls a novel scheme inaugurated in the campaign of 1896 by the late John K. Gowdy, of Rushville, then "chair" man of the Republican state committee. Mr. Gowdy was also one of the managers of the McKinley campaign, and along with the others he was worried greatly by the enormous crowds William Jennings Bryan was drawing on his tour of the country.

Senator Watson says that it was a serious question with Mr. Gowdy and other McKinley managers whether Mr. McKinley should abandon his front porch campaign at Canton and take the stump against Mr. Bryan. Finally Mr. Gowdy hit upon a plan of determining whether a majority of Mr. Bryan's audience were Republicans or Democrats. He strongly suspected that at least

He called in his trusted lieutenants and instructed them to obtain a large number of yellow ribbon half of those present were Republican badges, the emblem of the sound money element in that campaign.

These badges were distributed quietly and generally among Republicans in the Indiana cities in which Mr. Bryan was to speak. They were requested to wear them if they were sincerely interested in the campaign of Mr. McKinley.

The experiment was watched with keen interest by Mr. Gowdy and his associates. Senator Watson says that the first meeting Mr. Bryan addressed confirmed the judgment of Mr. Gowdy that fully half of the crowd was Republican, which was demonstrated by the number of men who appeared with the long ribbons on the laps of their coats.

Mr. Bryan was not in Indiana long before he was addressing crowds in which there were hundreds of men wearing the yellow ribbon badges showing that they were Republicans and attending the meetings out of curiosity rather than a determination to support the Democratic presidential candidate.

Senator Watson, who was running for congress from the Sixth district in that campaign, recalls that at Richmond fully three-fourths of the men wore yellow ribbons and that Mr. Bryan was so incensed over their action that he referred to it in his address. The chairman of the meeting was so bitter about it that he lost his head and indulged in remarks that cost the Democratic ticket a large number of votes.

HESSIAN FLY IN INDIANA

By W. H. Larrimer

The Hessian fly is the most destructive insect pest of wheat in Indiana. This fact has been only too well demonstrated throughout the entire state by the serious outbreak in the fall of 1919 and the resulting injury to the winter wheat crop of 1920. The ability of the pest to increase in enormous numbers under favorable conditions accounts for its widespread abundance last fall. The shortage of farm labor and unfavorable weather conditions at sowing time influenced many farmers to sow too early in the season, with the result that here is a very heavy infestation in practically all early sown wheat. Because of these circumstances it has been thought appropriate to present in this circular the latest information obtainable on this subject.

There are always two main generations of the Hessian fly in Indiana. In each generation it passes through four different forms so entirely unlike in appearance as to confuse the average farmer. The fly itself is very small, being only about one-tenth of an inch long, the body of an obscure dark color, and the form much like that of a small misquito. The eggs are very minute, being only about one-fiftieth of an inch in length, slender, glossy, translucent and slightly reddish. They are placed in the grooves of the upper surface of the leaves, where they can easily be seen by allowing the sunlight to fall directly on the infested leaf. The larva or maggot, when newly hatched, is a little smaller than the egg, with a reddish tinge; later, as it increases in size, it is first white and afterwards greenish white, clouded internally by flaky white. After the maggot has reached its full growth, the skin hardens and turns brown, forming a covering known as the "flaxseed". Within this "flaxseed" it transforms first to a pupa and from this to an adult fly. The term "flaxseed" is applied because the fly in this stage somewhat resembles a flaxseed in form and color.

The adult flies for the spring brood emerge from flaxseed, overwintering in volunteer and the regular wheat crop. Practically all emerge during April, and while individuals live only a few days, during this time they lay their eggs as described, in grooves along the upper surface of the wheat leaves. The eggs hatch usually in a little less than a week, and the tiny maggots work their way down as far as they can go between the leaf sheath and the stalk, where they feed until they are mature. The full-grown larvae, which somewhat resemble grains of rice, transform to "flaxseeds", and in this stage pass the summer.

During August and September, and in the southern part of the state, the first few days of October, the adults of the main fall generation emerge from "flaxseeds" in stubble or volunteer wheat which has been allowed to stand. This generation infests both volunteer wheat and all wheat sown before the fly-free date. The flies lay their eggs on the new wheat plants; and the life cycle is repeated. It is the maggots of this generation that cause the characteristic appearance of infested plants and thus ascertain the extent to which his wheat is infested. The center shoot is usually absent and the leaves are broad, short, and of a dark green color. An uninfested plant is of a more slender growth, lighter green in color, and has a central unfolding leaf shoot.

The Rushville Rebekah Lodge No. 132 will hold their regular stated meeting Friday evening beginning promptly at seven o'clock so those who wish may attend the chautauqua.

A double wedding was performed this morning at eleven o'clock at the U. B. parsonage by the Rev. Emma Miller, pastor of the United Brethren church in this city, when Alden Griner and Mable Hobbs and Rex Maple and Amanda Gwinnup were married. All of the people are well known young people, Mrs. Griner being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hobbs of southern Rush county and Mrs. Maple being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oviav Gwinnup, who also resides in the southern part of the county. Mr. and Mrs. Griner will reside in Andersonville, where Mr. Griner is engaged in garage work and Mr. and Mrs. Maple will reside near Andersonville on a farm. The newlyweds left at noon for Indianapolis and other points on their wedding trip, and will be at their homes in a few days.

The threshing company of the Little Salt Creek neighborhood held its annual social gathering for the families of that company at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Howard Tuesday evening. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Krammes, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Keal, Carrie McKee, Delia Richardsin, Clifford Jones, Wesley York and family, Rosecoe Jones and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Hankins, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hankins, H. H. Stevens and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Howard, Lowell and Roland and Virgil Jones, Ed Angle and daughters Mabel and Gerie, Ben Emsweller and daughter Nellie, Mr. and Mrs. James Ailes, Clyde Murphy, Steve Mosier and family, Harley and Florence York and Harold Moore and family. After a social evening refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

A very attractive wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cassidy east of Manila at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening when their daughter Miss Lavonne was united in marriage to Carl L. Dearing, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Dearing, by the Rev. O. J. McMullen.

The bride wore a white embroidered georgette dress and carried a bouquet of roses and larkspur. Miss Helen Taylor of Indianapolis sang, "O Promise Me," and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Hazel Brown of Homer. Wagner's "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin and "To a Wild Rose" was played during the wedding ceremony.

Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dearing, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Dearing, the Rev. and Mrs. O. J. McMullen, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Miller, Dr. Wayne Alter, Clell Dearing and Hugh Brown. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal couple left for a wedding trip to Chicago.

PRISONERS RECAPTURED

Indianapolis Youths Leap From Train But Are Caught Again

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 12.—Elmer Ball, age eighteen, 1349 Silver avenue, and Gilbert Banks, age nineteen, 1846 West Minnesota street, alleged automobile thieves, who escaped Wednesday night from John Giles, city detective, when they jumped from a Pennsylvania train on which they were being brought to Indianapolis from New Albany, were caught about 6 a. m. today by Giles and Bicycle Policeman Lowe in a cornfield at the end of West Minnesota street.

Giles, who searched all night for the fugitives, and Lowe, who was assisting him, saw the two men crossing a field between Kentucky avenue and Minnesota street and, by taking a "short cut" through other fields, headed them off and arrested them.

SEES REASON FOR THE SOCIAL UNREST

Father John Palubicki Says Lack of Love Causes Disturbances Throughout World

APPLIES TO NATIONS TOO

Points Out Name of Giver of Peace is Not Mentioned in the League of Nations

Father John Palubicki, addressing the chautauqua audience yesterday afternoon on the subject, "The Social Unrest in the United States", declared that the conditions in this country and every country today was due to the lack of material love between men and women of the nations.

International unrest is plainly seen, he said, and asserted that it was noticeable almost immediately after the signing of the armistice, when he had occasion to be in a foreign country. He said that France and England look upon the United States today with an eye of suspicion, and were not thankful deep in their hearts for the assistance rendered by the United States in the recent war.

Father John asserted that all of the allied nations today seem to think that this country had not given everything that they should have, to help win the war. He spoke with knowledge that he had gained while in the service, and said that it dawned upon him as he was returning home to this country.

Social unrest in the United States has reached a critical point, because people have forgotten their love for one another. He asserted that the greatest gift that God had given to mankind was love, and that it was love for one another, and one country's love for another.

Father John recalled incidents which occurred recently in various cities in the United States in which lawlessness, mob rule and riots have predominated. He pointed out that people became mad, both men and women, and when worked to the highest pitch of their madness, had forgotten their love for one another, and criminal deeds had been done.

He touched upon the league of nations, when all countries had assembled in Versailles to write a document that intended to restore peace to the world, and to preserve peace for all time to come. With all nations assembled, Father John asserted that the giver of peace and love, Jesus Christ, was entirely forgotten, and that the name of God did not appear in a single instance in the writings of the countries' representatives.

Industrial unrest as well as political unrest is causing much concern in this country, and the social element was scored by the speaker who asserted that it would continue until the mob rulers and usurpers would abide by the Golden Rule, instead of the rule of gold.

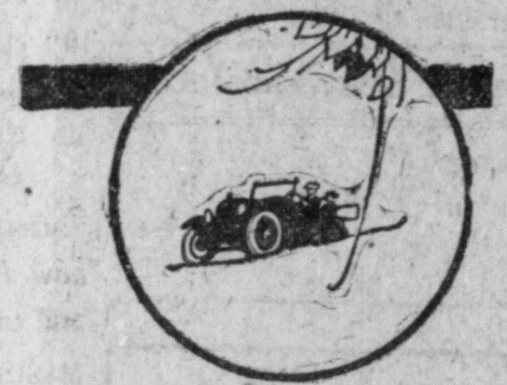

"The social unrest sweeping our country today, as well as all countries of the world," continued Father John, "can be solved by only one way. It lies with the women and motherhood of our country. They should lead our men by the hands and direct the children in the paths that are right."

"The women, the instruments of life, won the World War, because they stand for peace and righteousness, and today that is what we need," concluded Father John.

After the conclusion of his lecture he spoke briefly of the Polish situation, taking the audience back to the beginning of the country's civilization and relating the history up until the present struggle. He spoke with knowledge from home, being a native of that country, and maintained that the present trouble was taking place because of political unrest within the borders of the country.

OFFICES CLOSED

The offices of county officials were closed this afternoon to allow the officials to attend the chautauqua. They will be open again at 4:30 o'clock.

TODAY ONE OF BEST OF THE ASSEMBLY

sents especially forceful. Dr. Sadler has been highly recommended by other chautauqua speakers here this week and she is assured of a large hearing tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Ongawa, natives of Japan, failed to come up to expectations in their program last night, and proved to be the most disappointing offering at this year's assembly. They told of some of the customs of Japan, which seemed very queer when compared with those of America, but as entertainers they were failures. The strange and weird antics of Mr. Ongawa amused the children. They were recommended very highly to the local program committee by a chautauqua bureau of high standing.

Great things are expected of the remaining three days for some splendid entertainments will be offered, together with the two political days. Governor Edwn P. Morrow of Kentucky will speak Friday afternoon at three o'clock, republican day, and Henry N. Spaan of Indianapolis, democratic candidate for congressman in the seventh district, will speak on the same hour Saturday afternoon, when democratic day will be observed. Mr. Spaan will be accompanied by Dr. C. B. McCullough, democratic candidate for governor.

The Davies Light Opera company, which already has an enviable reputation in Rushville, will offer an hour's program Friday afternoon and a light opera at night. The Crawford Adams company, organization of Boston musicians, will provide the entertainment Saturday.

Garden Beauty Most Anyone Can Afford

Look about as you walk or drive through a residential district and note the attractive places. It isn't the "finest" homes by any means that catch your eye. More often it is the well kept yard, the shrubbery, the trimmed trees and flower beds.

And then when you see in combination with these, a neat fence, an arbor, a pergola and a bird house—you exclaim: "What a picture."

The wonder of it is that more folks don't have these tasty little garden features. There's nothing cooler and better looking. And the cost! You'll be surprised how reasonable it is.

We'll take just as much interest in supplying you with the lumber for these little improvements as if you were buying materials for a house. We can make some interesting suggestions.

WAR VETERANS TO MEET IN CLEVELAND

Notable Gathering of Army Leaders
Expected to Assemble For American Legion Convention

TO BE HELD SEPTEMBER 27-29

Among Military Men Expected Are
Gen. Pershing, Marshals Foch and Petain and Pres. Wilson

(By United Press.)

Cleveland, O., August 12.—Probably the most notable gathering of army leaders since the disintegration of the great allied military machine in France, is expected to assemble here for the American Legion convention September 27, 28 and 29. Preparations are being made to entertain anywhere from 30,000 to 50,000 veterans of the world war.

Among the famous military men expected by the committee on arrangements are General Pershing and most of the members of his staff; several British and Canadian officers of high rank and officers from other of the allied countries. Viscount Beatty, Admiral Simms, Secretary of War Baker, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Franklin D'Olier, commander of the American Legion and Col. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., are scheduled for leading parts in the gathering. A message to be read at the opening of the ceremonies is expected from President Wilson.

Plans call for a huge parade on September 27. All the military and naval notables will take part in the procession with General Pershing, Viscount Beatty and Foch and Petain in the van.

Cleveland is preparing to give the visiting veterans a royal time. A huge fund is being raised for the entertainment. The men will be taken to theaters, picnics, on lake trips; they'll be stuffed with real chow, showered with smokes, taken to real prize fights, given carte blanche in the amusement parks and in general be made to feel that the city belongs to them.

The posts in all parts of the United States and territories will be represented by 3,200 delegates, who will vote on all the questions to come before the convention.

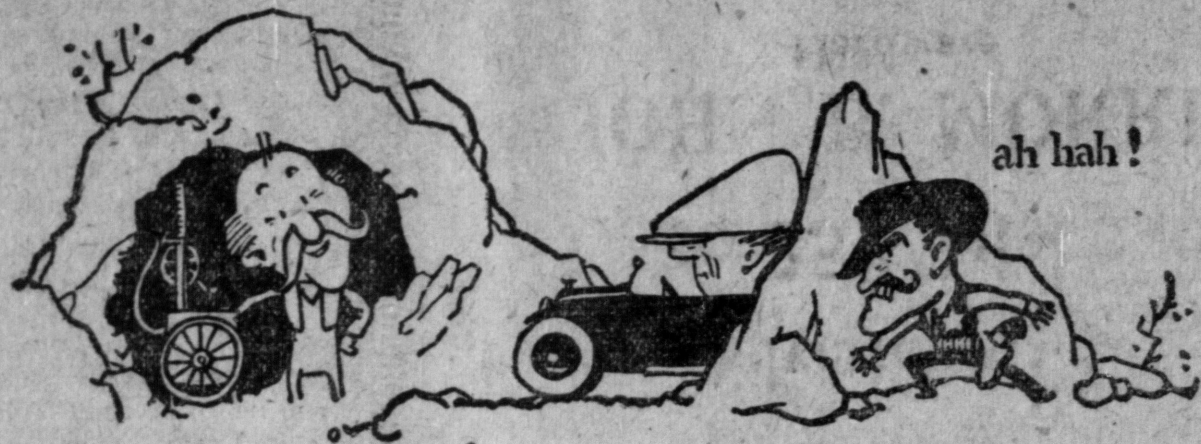

A new national commander will be selected. Nearly every state is expected to have its favorite son in the ring. Ohio's candidate is expected to be Col. F. W. Galbraith, Jr., state commander of the legion. He is a resident of Cincinnati. Other favorite sons mentioned are Col. Milton J. Foreman, Illinois; Col. A. H. Gausser, Michigan; Col. Edward L. Logan, Massachusetts; Col. Henry Matthewson, California. It was stated that there is a big demand for a younger man of lesser rank for the office.

Reunions will feature the convention. A reunion of the thirty-seventh division will be held in Gray's armory here on September 26, the day before the convention proper convenes.

Terrible Taste Removed From Castor Oil

New Process Robs Old Reliable
Family Remedy of Disagreeable Taste

The chemists of Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc., one of the largest manufacturers of castor oil in the world, have perfected a remarkable process by which all nauseating taste is removed from castor oil. In the opinion of physicians and druggists who are already familiar with Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil, this remarkable improvement is a real blessing. It's the same old-fashioned castor oil that every physician prescribes. It's 100% pure castor oil. But that nauseating taste has been eliminated. Strength and purity remain the same. Today you can take Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil easily. Children take it without coaxing or bribing. Do not accept substitutes. Sold by all good druggists. If you want a castor oil absolutely without nauseating taste, insist on genuine laboratory filled bottles, plainly labelled Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil. Three sizes, 15c., 35c. and 65c.

TEACHERS HAVE TO WORK TO KEEP GOING

E. L. Hines States That State Will be About 700 High School
Teachers Short This Fall

DO NOT GET ENOUGH MONEY

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 12—Many principals and school teachers of Indiana are working on farms, clerking, or working in automobile factories "to keep their heads above water until after the fall term of school opens and then they must struggle to keep going after the school year begins," E. L. Hines, superintendent of public instruction said here today.

"The teachers in the state of Indiana do not get enough money to keep them going," said Hines. "Although I think that we will have enough grade school teachers. I am almost positive that we will be about seven hundred high school teachers short when the fall term commences. I don't know where we are going to get them. They are making more money at other lines of work than they can make in teaching school." The special general assembly granted the teachers an increase over last year's salary, the minimum salary for grade school teachers to be $800 per year.

"We cannot get competent and reliable teachers for the salaries that they are being paid. The only way which we can get them is to treble their salaries," Hines added.

POWERS SPLIT ON A RUSSIAN POLICY

British Attempt to Close Breach
With France Over Question of
Combating Bolshevism

ASK CONTINUED COOPERATION

United States Will Refrain From
"Taking Sides"—Causes For
The Break Explained

(By United Press.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—The United States will refrain from the present from "taking sides" in the differences between Great Britain and France over the Russians, it was learned at the state department today.

Britain and France have split on the question of how to combat Russian Bolshevism.

The British today attempted to close the breach. A note was received at the French foreign office in which the British declared the two governments should continue to co-operate closely while the present differences are adjusted.

The schism in the allied unity was caused by France extending recognition to General Wrangel, anti-bolshevik leader in the Crimea, and by Britain advising Poland to accept the Bolshevik peace terms, according to the dispatch.

Premier Lloyd George at first refused to credit the report that the French had recognized Wrangel without the British consent.

When Premier Millerand heard that Lloyd George had advised the Poles to accept the Bolshevik terms, he told the cabinet it was a violation of the Hythe agreement under which France and Britain were to act in concert on the Russian crisis.

The sudden development of the French-British liaison came as a surprise to many diplomats.

Washington officials expressed fear that France and Britain would go it alone hereafter which would weaken the western barrier against the spread of bolshevism.

The official Washington attitude evidently was "hands off" for the present until it was seen whether the differences could be patched up.

Crop of 22 Acres Averages

35½ Bushels of Wheat to Acre
Samuel Tonves, who lives in southern Rush county, near the Rush-Decatur line, reported yesterday that he believes he is the holder of the best yield this season, having raised 786 bushels of wheat on 22½ acres, or an average of 35½ bushels. Mr. Tonves stated that the wheat graded number 1, which means that it tested above 60 pounds. The farm is located a short distance north-west of Williamstown and lies wholly in Rush county.

"Tour" of County With Link Gary

URNS OUT POEMS TO ORDER

Strickland Gillilan, who prides himself on the fact that he can turn out verse made to order, reached Rushville shortly before noon to address the chautauqua this afternoon. Gillilan is no stranger in Rushville because this is where he "got his feet" wet entertaining people without writing his thoughts on paper.

He "toured" the county with Link Gary, he recalled, when Link was county superintendent of schools, speaking at eighth year commencement.

"By the way," Gillilan said, "I understand that Link Gary is not in town. Am I right?"

When informed that he was Gillilan said he thought that rather

NO TRACE FOUND OF STOLEN FORD MACHINE

William Moore of New Salem Offers
$50 Reward for Recovery of His
Touring Car

CITIES NEARBY NOTIFIED.

No trace has been found of a new Ford touring car which was stolen from the streets in this city Saturday night, the car belonging to William Moore of New Salem. It had been driven only two months. Mr. Moore after notifying the surrounding towns, offered a reward of $50 for the apprehension of the machine.

The car was left in Third street, near the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ormes, and it is believed that it was taken about nine o'clock, as the family had not been away from the machine only a short time, when they returned, to find it was gone. Patrolman Pea made a search over Rushville and was unable to find it, the officer thinking that the machine had probably been taken for "joy-riding" purposes.

The engine number on the machine was 4085218 and the Indiana license number was 274386. The left front door was torn and there was a noticeable dent in the rear end, which would make the machine easy to discover, besides being a new machine. Mr. Moore stated that there was also an army blanket in the rear seat. A quiet search has been conducted in this vicinity for the machine, and cards announcing the reward has been sent to the surrounding cities.

SHELBY COUNTY BOARD TO RESCIND ITS ORDER

Reviewers Will Approve Horizontal
Increase Following Meeting
With State Tax Board

INJURIOUS EFFECTS ARE SEEN

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 12.—That the Shelby county board of review will rescind action in opposing horizontal increases in property valuations as ordered by the state tax board, was indicated today at a meeting of a Shelby county delegation with the state board.

Two representatives of the county farmers' federation accompanied by the auditor and treasurer and all but two members of the board of review, came to this city to thresh out the question before the tax board.

The farmers' representatives requested that the county board rescind its action on the ground that the tax board's subsequent order making a county wide horizontal increase, would place a burden on their constituents.

poor treatment because he had been invited to Link's house the first time he visited Rushville.

"I think I'll have to bawl him out at the chautauqua this afternoon," he commented, half to himself. "Nothing short of that would repay him for inviting a fellow to his house and then leaving."

The former Hoosier likes to produce verse according to specifications just like one would order a suit made along certain lines. Talking informally today, he related many interesting experiences he had had filling "orders" for poetry. He writes for a score of magazines regularly and contributes a lot of unsigned stuff to Judge and Life.

"One day I got a telegram from the Retail Public Ledger of Philadelphia," said Gillilan, "for a poem, at once, commemorating the second anniversary of the magazine. I wired them back that the poem was on the way and it was in the mails in forty-five minutes."

DEDICATION TO BE HELD AUGUST 22

Formal Ceremony is Arranged by
The Little Flatrock Christian Congregation

NEW CHURCH IS COMPLETED.

House of Worship, Including Furnishings, Cost $35,000—Established in 1830

The new church which has been erected during the past year by the Little Flatrock Christian congregation, will be dedicated with formal ceremony one week from next Sunday, August 22. Three services will be held during the day, at 10:30 a. m. and 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. The dedicatory sermon will be preached in the evening by George L. Snively and the keys to the new house of worship will be formally turned over to the chairman of the board of trustees, W. E. Logan, by Charles B. Kenner, chairman of the building committee. Dinner will be served in the basement of the new church at noon.

The Little Flatrock church's history extends back almost a century and instead of declining, as has been the history of rural churches, it has enjoyed a steady and substantial growth until today it is one of the most influential churches of the denomination to be found any place.

The way the congregation has kept astride with the progress of the country is demonstrated by the beautiful church which has just been completed, furnishings included, at a cost of $35,000.

The church was organized in the spring of 1830 and was in reality an offspring of the Baptist church. John P. Thompson, an elder of the church in the Little Flatrock community, on a visit to Kentucky, heard the exponents of the restoration movement. He returned home and related what he had heard to his co-workers in the church. The result was the formation of the new congregation.

The body of Mr. Thompson lies buried in the graveyard adjoining the church. Benjamin Reeve, another to whom the church is indebted for his services in the early days when the congregation was in its infancy, is also buried in the church cemetery. Many ministers of great ability, which has been demonstrated by their call to larger fields, have served the church during its ninety years of constant development. The Rev. Talmage Defrees is the present minister and is in the second year of his pastorate.

The congregation has never allowed its efforts and work to be confined to the small community which it serves, but has had a vision of world service and has contributed liberally to missionary offerings. It also supports a prosperous auxiliary of the Christian Women's Board of Missions which now boasts of a membership of nearly one hundred.

PONZI IS ARRESTED TODAY

Boston "Millionaire" Accused of
Using Mails to Defraud

(By United Press.)

Boston, Mass., Aug. 12.—Charles Ponzi the "bushel basket millionaire," who is declared to have made his millions in operations on postal reply coupons, formally surrendered himself to the federal authorities here today, charged with using the mails to defraud. He provided bond for $25,000 and was released until August 19.

Shortly after 1:30 o'clock, Bank Commissioner Allen declared that the capital of the Hanover Trust Company which he seized yesterday was not simply impaired but probably wiped out.

The capitalization was $400,000. Ponzi conducted practically all of his mysterious financial operations through the Hanover Trust Company and had a large share of stock in the institution.

MAY HAVE BEARING ON DEMAREE CASES

Anna Alyea, Said to be Wife of
Gregg Alyea, One of Defendants,
Arrested for Shoplifting

IS REMEMBERED HERE WELL.

Alyea's Trial on Conspiracy Charge
is Scheduled for The September
Term of Court

Today comes forth with another chapter in the Demaree case, which might lead up to future arrests, when Anna Alyea, of Greensburg was arrested in Indianapolis, charged with shoplifting. The Greensburg woman is said to be the wife of Gregg Alyea, who is awaiting trial in the Rush circuit court on a conspiracy charge, in connection with the Demaree gang.

Mrs. Alyea gave her age as 29, and will be recalled here by many as being seen in the court room, as a beautiful young woman, her husband being about twice as old as she.

Detectives Manning and Reynolds of the Indianapolis police force made the arrests and at the same time arrested May LaForge, age 28 years, who gave her address as 1713 Prospect street, Indianapolis. The detectives allege that they observed the women taking merchandise from counters in a store, and that the goods taken amounted to $14.

Word from Greensburg today stated that the Alyea woman was said to be the wife of Gregg Alyea, who left that city about two weeks ago for a visit in Indianapolis. She is also a daughter of "Deacon" Abe Smith of Indianapolis.

Whether this case will have any bearing on the Demaree case here is unknown, as little suspicion was ever paid to her when she was in the court room with her husband. In fact she was pitied by most of the people, because of the look of innocence that she had.

Just this week Carey Wayner, who was associated with the Demaree gang, was arrested in Michigan and brought to this city on a charge of house breaking, and is still in jail, not having requested a bond.

The trial of Gregg Alyea, husband of the woman held in the Indianapolis jail, is scheduled for sometime during the September term of court, he being out now on $5,000 bond on the conspiracy charge. The conspiracy charge which included seven people, has so far resulted in three sentences.

DEATH MESSAGE IS NOT RECEIVED HERE

Elwood Ferguson Learns From Letter Telegram Was Sent Aug.
4 Notifying Him of Death

OLIVER YOUSE BORN HERE

Failure to receive a telegram which was filed at Cleveland, Ohio, August 4 resulted in Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Ferguson, 210 North Julian street, not learning of the death of their nephew, Oliver Youse, for seven days after it occurred.

They received a letter Wednesday from Mrs. Kate Youse, mother of the deceased and sister of Mr. Ferguson, announcing the death of Mr. Youse and stating that a telegram had been sent from Cleveland on the day he expired, Wednesday, Aug. 4. The body was not buried until Saturday, August 7, Mrs. Youse expecting relatives here to attend. Inquiry at the Western Union office here revealed that no such a telegram had ever been received in Rushville.

Mr. Youse was born and reared in Rushville and will be remembered by many people here. He suffered a stroke of paralysis and pneumonia developed, causing his demise. Besides his mother, he is survived by the widow and one son, who is fifteen years old. Mr. Youse was chief of the Western Union office in Cleveland. Burial took place at Sandusky, Ohio, last Saturday.

DR. LOWELL M. GREEN ACQUITTED BY A JURY

Fifty Seconds Required to Decide
Physician Not Guilty of Violat-
ing Parking Ordinance

SPECIAL JUDGE PRESIDES

Dr. Lowell M. Green was acquitted yesterday afternoon in police court by a jury of six men, after being charged with failing to park his automobile within the lines marked off for that purpose. He was arrested a few days ago when it was alleged that he parked his machine wrong, in front of the Rush County National bank, leaving it there for over an hour. Gates Ketchum acted as special judge, replacing Mayor Irvin who granted the petition for a change of judge.

The defense proved to the satisfaction of the jury that his machine was parked within the lines, and testimony that was attempted to be introduced by the city that the machine was blocking the sidewalk traffic, was ruled out, because the affidavit charged only a violation of the white line ordinance. The jury consisted of Al Linville, Will Mulno, Paul Boehm, R. C. Hargrove, Guy Gordon and Fred Hammer, and it required 50 seconds to return a verdict of not guilty.

FORMER MAYOR OF RUSHVILLE EXPIRES

B. A. Black, About 60 Years of Age,
Dies This Morning When Con-
dition Suddenly Grows Worse

WIDOW AND TWO DAUGHTERS

B. A. Black, grocer and former mayor of Rushville, expired this morning, at ten-thirty at his residence, 583 North Jackson street, after a long suffering with Bright's disease. Mr. Black was not thought to be dangerously ill until last night, when he suffered with a sinking spell, but this morning he was able to sit up and talk with his family. He suddenly grew worse, however, and death resulted.

For a number of years he conducted a grocery store in this city, and was a well known business man. He retired in 1913 as mayor of the city, after having served for four years in that capacity, heading the democratic administration.

The deceased was about 60 years of age, and is survived by a widow and two children, who are Miss Helen Black of this city and Mrs. Esther Cannon of Greencastle. The funeral arrangements were not completed today.

Strong Lock Put On The Council Chamber Door By Mayor's Order

Mayor Bars Entrance to Upstairs
of City Building—Chief of Police
and City Clerk Have a Key.

FIREMEN WERE CUSTODIANS

Not being satisfied with the public records being locked within the safe in the council chamber, and barred from public inspection, unless demanded to be seen, Mayor Irvin has had a strong Yale lock put on the outer door of the council chamber, and this morning entrance was also barred from the council room.

So far as is known, only the chief of police and city clerk have a key for the outer door. Policeman Pea, who is on duty at night, will be compelled to remain without shelter during a storm, and whenever he wants access to his private locker, must hunt up the higher official.

Today was one of the high spots of the Rush county chautauqua of 1920.

Good music sandwiched in between some wholesome wit and humor, and an instructive address on how to keep well was the promise held out by the chautauqua.

The Vissochi Florentine Musicians who arrived this morning for an afternoon and evening concert, offer a combination of talented artists which has not been excelled here this year, according to all the information which can be obtained by the program committee.

Rush county chautauqua patrons did not have to be told that they should hear Strickland Gillilan, the elongated Hoosier who loves to talk to an Indiana audience better than any other in the world, and they demonstrated this fact this afternoon. Gillilan was here a few years ago and the coliseum was then literally packed to the roof. (For some people did find seats on the rafters). Clever as are his writings, especially his poems, his platform addresses have won even greater popularity.

Dr. Lena K. Sadler, who is recognized as a real authority on health subjects, lectures tonight. She is said to have a very striking personality and a wonderful delivery which makes the truths she pre-Continued on Page Six locking up the council chamber and the safe is not known, but the carpenter said that it was Mayor Irvin's orders, and of course orders must be obeyed.

Firemen have taken a great pride in keeping the council chamber in tidy order. Nothing has compelled them to do this, but they have felt that it is also a part of their headquarters and have taken unusual pride in seeing to it that the room is always clean and presentable.

The question comes up now as to the future custodianship of the chamber, for with only two keys, or possibly another carried by the mayor, it means that someone else will play janitor and keep the room in tip-top shape.

One person remarked this morning that "someone of these days Yale locks will be placed on the doors of the fire station and when an alarm came in, it would be necessary first to get the key from the police chief, and if time was left, put out the fire and then lock the place up again."

TIGHTENING OF MONEY HITS AUTO INDUSTRY

Indianapolis Plants Are Laying Off Men Due to Refusal of Banks To Loan Funds

PEOPLE NOT BUYING CARS

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., August 12.—Tightening of money by banks will force the suspension of the automobile industry within a short time, Indianapolis manufacturers said today. Thousands of employees of the automobile factories of the city have already been laid off and forces will be reduced still farther.

The manufacturers attributed the situation to a refusal of banks throughout the country to extend credit to dealers and to the manufacturers of automobiles. If the banks continue to refuse to grant loans or to extend those already out every automobile industry will be forced to shut down, in the opinion of H. C. Denning, superintendent of production for William H. Snell Co., manufacturing the Monroe automobiles. The Monroe manufacturers have already cut the force to one-third the normal size.

The Nordyke and Marmen Company has released 2,000 of its men, leaving a working force of 3,800, and this number is expected to be reduced gradually. The National plant has closed down with the exception of the service and shipping departments. An official of the Nordyke and Marmen company said today that "people simply are not buying cars now." He admitted also that it is growing more difficult for dealers and manufacturers to obtain loans and said this was responsible largely for the general laying off of men.

ers of Europe hold a conference at Hythe, not under the auspices of the league but as individual nations.
Discussing this very question the New York Tribune comments as follows:
Article 17 of the covenant, covering war or threat of war between a league member and a non-league member, says the league council shall invite the outsider to become a member and to accept league obligations. Then the article declares: "If a state so invited shall refuse to accept the obligations of membership for the purposes of such dispute, and shall resort to war against a member of the league, the provisions of Article 16 shall be applicable as against the state taking such action."
Article 16, thus referred to, provides for instant action against an offending state. First, there is to be a boycott, and then the league council is to recommend to the several governments "what effective military naval or air force the members of the league shall severally contribute to the armed forces to be used to protect the covenants of the league".
No one seems ever to suggest action through or by the league. Germany hurries troops to the border. Rumania is reported to have dispatched an ultimatum to Russia. Hungary and Czechoslovakia discuss military action, and there is talk of French and British expeditions to Poland, but it seems to occur to no nation to urge that the war be made a league affair.
There is ado over what platforms and speeches mean, but the league itself is inert. In a new sense the question arises of what obligations this country would be under if it were a league member. Would it also be of those signing and then forgetting its membership while the ink is still wet? Any one wanting to know why Mr. Harding is averse to making specific pledges as to exactly what he would do next spring may well consider what is currently happening in Europe. A new situation has obviously arisen, and it is not strange that Europe listens to Elihu Root, the author of the Republican league plank, as he labors to make the covenant a workable instrument.
Before the Senate meets again the league covenant may be archaic through disuse—may have died from general atrophy without making even a squeak.
Yes, the things we want most are those that are hardest to get. When we hear people talk of the price of clothing, we immediately want a new suit. If it's the soaring of sugar they mention, we have a yearning for sweets, and if it's the high cost of living in general we get as hungry as a bear and look around to see what else we want. You, too.

A New Orleans structural iron worker took his five months old baby out on a girder on the fourteenth story of a new skyscraper and held it in his arms while a frightened preacher performed the christening ceremony. They got their names in print, and it's a wonder it wasn't in obituary form.
Don't worry over the mistakes of your neighbor. It is more sporty to let him worry over yours.

UNCLE JACK GOWDY GOT BRYAN'S COAT
Senator Watson Recalls Incident in Which Former State Chairman Worked a Smooth Deal
IN THE CAMPAIGN OF 1896
Republican Presidential Candidate Stayed at Home and Republicans Wore Badges to Honor Bryan

Senator James E. Watson recalls a novel scheme inaugurated in the campaign of 1896 by the late John K. Gowdy, of Rushville, then chairman of the Republican state committee. Mr. Gowdy was also one of the managers of the McKinley campaign, and along with the others he was worried greatly by the enormous crowds William Jennings Bryan was drawing on his tour of the country.
Senator Watson says that it was a serious question with Mr. Gowdy and other McKinley managers whether Mr. McKinley should abandon his front porch campaign at Canton and take the stump against Mr. Bryan. Finally Mr. Gowdy hit upon a plan of determining whether a majority of Mr. Bryan's audience were Republicans or Democrats. He strongly suspected that at least five-eighths were.
He called in his trusted lieutenants and instructed them to obtain a large number of yellow ribbon half of those present were Republicans, the emblem of the sound money element in that campaign.
These badges were distributed quietly and generally among Republicans in the Indiana cities in which Mr. Bryan was to speak. They were requested to wear them if they were sincerely interested in the campaign of Mr. McKinley.
The experiment was watched with keen interest by Mr. Gowdy and his associates. Senator Watson says that the first meeting Mr. Bryan addressed confirmed the judgment of Mr. Gowdy that fully half of the crowd was Republican, which was demonstrated by the number of men who appeared with the long ribbons on the laps of their coats.
Mr. Bryan was not in Indiana long before he was addressing crowds in which there were hundreds of men wearing the yellow ribbon badges showing that they were Republicans and attending the meetings out of curiosity rather than a determination to support the Democratic presidential candidate.
Senator Watson, who was running for congress from the Sixth district in that campaign, recalls that at Richmond fully three-fourths of the men wore yellow ribbons and that Mr. Bryan was so incensed over their action that he referred to it in his address. The chairman of the meeting was so bitter about it that he lost his head and indulged in remarks that cost the Democratic ticket a large number of votes.

HESSIAN FLY IN INDIANA

By W. H. Larrimer

The Hessian fly is the most destructive insect pest of wheat in Indiana. This fact has been only too well demonstrated throughout the entire state by the serious outbreak in the fall of 1919 and the resulting injury to the winter wheat crop of 1920. The ability of the pest to increase in enormous numbers under favorable conditions accounts for its widespread abundance last fall. The shortage of farm labor and unfavorable weather conditions at sowing time influenced many farmers to sow too early in the season, with the result that here is a very heavy infestation in practically all early sown wheat. Because of these circumstances it has been thought appropriate to present in this circular the latest information obtainable on this subject.

There are always two main generations of the Hessian fly in Indiana. In each generation it passes through four different forms so entirely unlike in appearance as to confuse the average farmer. The fly itself is very small, being only about one-tenth of an inch long, the body of an obscure dark color, and the form much like that of a small mosquito. The eggs are very minute, being only about one-fiftieth of an inch in length, slender, glossy, translucent and slightly reddish. They are placed in the grooves of the upper surface of the leaves, where they can easily be seen by allowing the sunlight to fall directly on the infested leaf. The larva or maggot, when newly hatched, is a little smaller than the egg, with a reddish tinge; later, as it increases in size, it is first white and afterwards greenish white, clouded internally by flaky white. After the maggot has reached its full growth, the skin hardens and turns brown, forming a covering known as the "flaxseed". Within this "flaxseed" it transforms first to a pupa and from this to an adult fly. The term "flaxseed" is applied because the fly in this stage somewhat resembles a flaxseed in form and color.

The adult flies for the spring brood emerge from flaxseed, overwintering in volunteer and the regular wheat crop. Practically all emerge during April, and while individuals live only a few days, during this time they lay their eggs as described, in grooves along the upper surface of the wheat leaves. The eggs hatch usually in a little less than a week, and the tiny maggots work their way down as far as they can go between the leaf sheath and the stalk, where they feed until they are mature. The full-grown larvae, which somewhat resemble grains of rice, transform to "flaxseeds", and in this stage pass the summer.

During August and September, and in the southern part of the state, the first few days of October, the adults of the main fall generation emerge from "flaxseeds" in stubble or volunteer wheat which has been allowed to stand. This generation infests both volunteer wheat and all wheat sown before the fly-free date. The flies lay their eggs on the new wheat plants; and the life cycle is repeated. It is the maggots of this generation that cause the characteristic appearance of infested plants and thus ascertain the extent to which his wheat is infested. The center shoot is usually absent and the leaves are broad, short, and of a dark green color. An uninfested plant is of a more slender growth, lighter green in color, and has a central unfolding leaf shoot.

RHEUMATISM Leaves You Forever

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-Four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and agonous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decidedly conquers the worst of all troubles and he has instructed your druggist to guarantee it in every instance.—(Advt.)

and daughter, Lowell and Virgil, sons of Roswell, New Mexico, and James Halstead of Connersville. At noon a bountiful pitch-in dinner was served.

The Rushville Rebekah Lodge No. 132 will hold their regular stated meeting Friday evening beginning promptly at seven o'clock so those who wish may attend the chautauqua.

A double wedding was performed this morning at eleven o'clock at the U. B. parsonage by the Rev. Emma Miller, pastor of the United Brethren church in this city, when Alden Griner and Mable Hobbs and Rex Maple and Amanda Gwinnup were married. All of the people are well known young people, Mrs. Griner being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hobbs of southern Rush county and Mrs. Maple being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oviat Gwinnup, who also resides in the southern part of the county. Mr. and Mrs. Griner will reside in Andersonville, where Mr. Griner is engaged in garage work and Mr. and Mrs. Maple will reside near Andersonville on a farm. The newlyweds left at noon for Indianapolis and other points on their wedding trip, and will be at their homes in a few days.

PRISONERS RECAPTURED

Indianapolis Youths Leap From Train But Are Caught Again

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 12.—Elmer Ball, age eighteen, 1349 Silver avenue, and Gilbert Banks, age nineteen, 1846 West Minnesota street, alleged automobile thieves, who escaped Wednesday night from John Giles, city detective, when they jumped from a Pennsylvania train on which they were being brought to Indianapolis from New Albany, were caught about 6 a. m. today by Giles and Bicycle Policeman Lowe in a cornfield at the end of West Minnesota street.

Giles, who searched all night for the fugitives, and Lowe, who was assisting him, saw the two men crossing a field between Kentucky avenue and Minnesota street and, by taking a "short cut" through other fields, headed them off and arrested them.

SEES REASON FOR THE SOCIAL UNREST

Father John Palubicki Says Lack of Love Causes Disturbances Throughout World

APPLIES TO NATIONS TOO

Points Out Name of Giver of Peace is Not Mentioned in the League of Nations

Father John Palubicki, addressing the chautauqua audience yesterday afternoon on the subject, "The Social Unrest in the United States", declared that the conditions in this country and every country today was due to the lack of material love between men and women of the nations.

International unrest is plainly seen, he said, and asserted that it was noticeable almost immediately after the signing of the armistice, when he had occasion to be in a foreign country. He said that France and England look upon the United States today with an eye of suspicion, and were not thankful deep in their hearts for the assistance rendered by the United States in the recent war.

Father John asserted that all of the allied nations today seem to think that this country had not given everything that they should have, to help win the war. He spoke with knowledge that he had gained while in the service, and said that it dawned upon him as he was returning home to this country.

Social unrest in the United States has reached a critical point, because people have forgotten their love for one another. He asserted that the greatest gift that God had given to mankind was love, and that it was love for one another, and one country's love for another.

Father John recalled incidents which occurred recently in various cities in the United States in which lawlessness, mob rule and riots have predominated. He pointed out that people became mad, both men and women, and when worked to the highest pitch of their madness, had forgotten their love for one another, and criminal deeds had been done.

He touched upon the league of nations, when all countries had assembled in Versailles to write a document that intended to restore peace to the world, and to preserve peace for all time to come. With all nations assembled, Father John asserted that the giver of peace and love, Jesus Christ, was entirely forgotten, and that the name of God did not appear in a single instance in the writings of the countries' representatives.

Industrial unrest as well as political unrest is causing much concern in this country, and the social element was scored by the speaker who asserted that it would continue until the mob rulers and usurpers would abide by the Golden Rule, instead of the rule of gold.

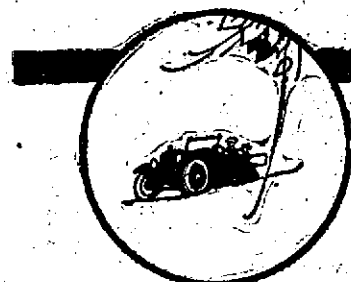

"The social unrest sweeping our country today, as well as all countries of the world," continued Father John, "can be solved by only one way. It lies with the women and motherhood of our country. They should lead our men by the hands and direct the children in the paths that are right."

"The women, the instruments of life, won the World War, because they stand for peace and righteousness, and today that is what we need," concluded Father John.

After the conclusion of his lecture, he spoke briefly of the Polish situation, taking the audience back to the beginning of the country's civilization and relating the history up until the present struggle. He spoke with knowledge from home, being a native of that country, and maintained that the present trouble was taking place because of political unrest within the borders of the country.

OFFICES CLOSED

The offices of county officials were closed this afternoon to allow the officials to attend the chautauqua. They will be open again at 4:30 o'clock.

Continued from Page One—sents especially forceful. Dr. Sadler has been highly recommended by other chautauqua speakers here this week and she is assured of a large hearing tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Ongawa, natives of Japan, failed to come up to expectations in their program last night, and proved to be the most disappointing offering at this year's assembly. They told of some of the customs of Japan, which seemed very queer when compared with those of America, but as entertainers they were failures. The strange and weird antics of Mr. Ongawa amused the children. They were recommended very highly to the local program committee by a chautauqua bureau of high standing.

Great things are expected of the remaining three days for some splendid entertainments will be offered, together with the two political days. Governor Edw. P. Morrow of Kentucky will speak Friday afternoon, at three o'clock, republican day, and Henry N. Spaan of Indianapolis, democratic candidate for congressman in the seventh district, will speak on the same hour Saturday afternoon, when democratic day will be observed. Mr. Spaan will be accompanied by Dr. C. B. McCullough, democratic candidate for governor.

The Davies Light Opera company, which already has an enviable reputation in Rushville, will offer an hour's program Friday afternoon and a light opera at night. The Crawford Adams company, organization of Boston musicians, will provide the entertainment Saturday.

Garden Beauty Most Anyone Can Afford

Look about as you walk or drive through a residential district and note the attractive places. It isn't the "finest" homes by any means that catch your eye. More often it is the well kept yard, the shrubbery, the trimmed trees and flower beds.

And then when you see in combination with these, a neat fence, an arbor, a pergola and a bird house—you exclaim: "What a picture."

The wonder of it is that more folks don't have these tasty little garden features. There's nothing cooler and better looking. And the cost! You'll be surprised how reasonable it is.

We'll take just as much interest in supplying you with the lumber for these little improvements as if you were buying materials for a house. We can make some interesting suggestions.

WAR VETERANS TO MEET IN CLEVELAND

Notable Gathering of Army Leaders
Expected to Assemble For American Legion Convention

TO BE HELD SEPTEMBER 27-29

Among Military Men Expected Are
Gen. Pershing, Marshals Foch
and Petain and Pres. Wilson

(By United Press)

Cleveland, O., August 12.—Probably the most notable gathering of army leaders since the disintegration of the great allied military machine in France, is expected to assemble here for the American Legion convention September 27, 28 and 29. Preparations are being made to entertain anywhere from 30,000 to 50,000 veterans of the world war.

Among the famous military men expected by the committee on arrangements are General Pershing and most of the members of his staff; several British and Canadian officers of high rank and officers from other of the allied countries. Viscount Beatty, Admiral Simms, Secretary of War Baker, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Franklin D'Olier, commander of the American Legion and Col. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., are scheduled for leading parts in the gathering. A message to be read at the opening of the ceremonies is expected from President Wilson.

Plans call for a huge parade on September 27. All the military and naval notables will take part in the procession with General Pershing, Viscount Beatty and Foch and Petain in the van.

Cleveland is preparing to give the visiting veterans a royal time. A huge fund is being raised for the entertainment. The men will be taken to theaters, picnics, on lake trips; they'll be stuffed with real chow, showered with smokes, taken to real prize fights, given carte blanche in the amusement parks and in general be made to feel that the city belongs to them.

The posts in all parts of the United States and territories will be represented by 3,200 delegates, who will vote on all the questions to come before the convention.

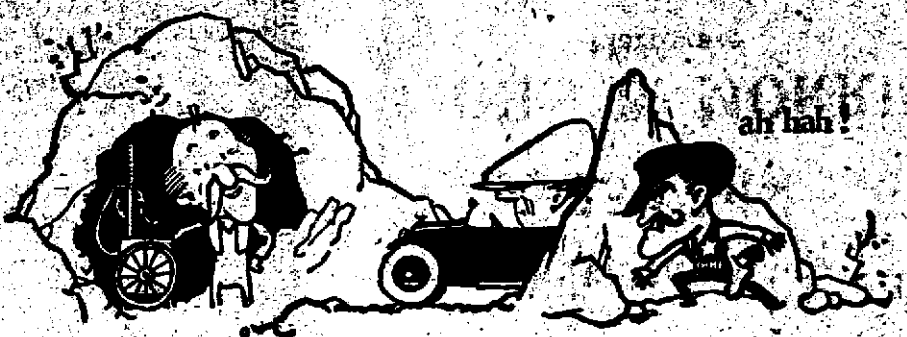

A new national commander will be selected. Nearly every state is expected to have its favorite son in the ring. Ohio's candidate is expected to be Col. F. W. Galbraith, Jr., state commander of the legion. He is a resident of Cincinnati. Other favorite sons mentioned are Col. Milton J. Foreman, Illinois; Col. A. H. Gausser, Michigan; Col. Edward L. Logan, Massachusetts; Col. Henry Matthewson, California. It was stated that there is a big demand for a younger man of lesser rank for the office.

Reunions will feature the convention. A reunion of the thirty-seventh division will be held in Gray's armory here on September 26, the day before the convention proper convenes.

Terrible Taste Removed From Castor Oil

New Process. Robs Old Reliable
Family Remedy of Disagreeable Taste

The chemists of Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc., one of the largest manufacturers of castor oil in the world, have perfected a remarkable process by which all nauseating taste is removed from castor oil. In the opinion of physicians and druggists who are already familiar with Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil, this remarkable improvement is a real blessing. It's the same old-fashioned castor oil that every physician prescribes. It's 100% pure castor oil. But that nauseating taste has been eliminated. Strength and purity remain the same. Today you can take Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil easily. Children take it without coaxing or bribing. Do not accept substitutes. Sold by all good druggists. If you want a castor oil absolutely without nauseating taste, insist on genuine laboratory filled bottles, plainly labeled Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil. Three sizes, 15c., 35c. and 65c. (Advt.)

Is There an Amendment That Bars the Fuel Kick?

Are gas tanks inspected by government sleuths? Are bootleggers cranking the handles of pumps? Is Cuba the haven for cars as for men? Why insult your motor with near-gasoline? Why worry along on poor moonshiner stuff? Just load up with pure

Target

GASOLINE

You're not violating the Volstead act when you use this good, pure, straight run fuel, and you're putting all the pep and kick in your car that the prohibitionists took out of the brown bottles last July.

You're done with sluggish fuel for all time after you've driven your first mile on Target, for the initial trial will convince you that there is no better gasoline to be had.

You'll be first away at crossings where once you were last. Your engine will start easily and run smoothly at all speeds. You'll have ample power to negotiate steep hills and to conquer heavy going.

And the big mileages you'll get from every gallon of Target will satisfy you that Target is just as economical as it is efficient.

TEACHERS HAVE TO WORK TO KEEP GOING

E. L. Hines States That State Will be About 700 High School
Teachers Short This Fall

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 12.—Many principals and school teachers of Indiana are working on farms, clerking, or working in automobile factories "to keep their heads above water until after the fall term of school opens and then they must struggle to keep going after the school year begins," E. L. Hines, superintendent of public instruction said here today.

"The teachers in the state of Indiana do not get enough money to keep them going," said Hines. "Although I think that we will have enough grade school teachers. I am almost positive that we will be about seven hundred high school teachers short when the fall term commences. I don't know where we are going to get them. They are making more money at other lines of work than they can make in teaching school." The special general assembly granted the teachers an increase over last year's salary, the minimum salary for grade school teachers to be $800 per year.

"We cannot get competent and reliable teachers for the salaries that they are being paid. The only way which we can get them is to treble their salaries," Hines added.
